Wellesley Players to Bring Lively Comedy

The Wellesley Players will present a lively comedy at the Arlington Friends of the Drama clubhouse on January 20 and 21, Friday and Saturday evenings next week. These exchange plays have become an annual feature looked forward to by both organizations.

Advance reports indicate that this show is full of fun and fuller of action even to the point of a violently hysterical boxing match that for "elemental drama" makes the weekly shows staged by Paul Bowser's ponderous pachyderms (known to some as the grunt and groan boys) seem sissy and amateur.

George R. Glendinning who staged "Journey's End" last year, is staging "Is Zat So?". Recollections of past productions of the Wellesley Players leads one to be very optimistic for this year's endeavor.

No Clogs

One of the most unusual thefts in the annals of local police history was recorded this week when James J. Falvey of 45 Blossom street reported that someone stole a sweater off his dog. It was a nice green one, too, trimmed with white.

Another almost as unique was the theft of a brand new boy's bicycle from the McNeil garage at 186 Scituate street and the substitution of an old girl's bicycle left in its place. Which seemed to the McNeils like a pretty poor swap.

So far the police have discovered no clogs in either of these cases.

Mrs. Luxford Retires After Ten Years As Treas. of Bradshaw

The annual meeting of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union of the Orthodox Congregational Church held on Monday, January 9th, proved to be one of the most interesting and enthusiastic meetings of the year. Following introductory remarks by the president, Miss Grace Parker, the pastor, Rev. Laurence L. Barber, was given charge of the devotional service with Mrs. Harold B. Wood at the piano. Mr. Barber, speaking appropriately for the New Year, laid emphasis upon the importance of the hearts of men and women being made new rather than the calendar—then would the year be new indeed.

Following the short business session came the annual reports, many of which were listened to with rapt attention, particularly the much awaited report of the outgoing treasurer, Mrs. William E. Luxford, as she covered her ten years of service. Mrs. Luxford caused much amazement at the remarkable financial record during that time, which she affirmed could not have been maintained had it not been for the group system.

The annual report of the secretary, Mrs. Carroll H. Beers, was also most interesting and comprehensive, bringing, as she did vividly before the members in a most entertaining manner the almost forgotten events of the year.

Outstanding was the report of Mrs. Earl S. Lewis, chairman of social work, showing the immense amount of helpful service accomplished.

TOWN BORROWS MONEY AT LOWEST RATE ON RECORD

Town Treasurer Charles A. Hardy announced Tuesday that the town had just borrowed $400,000 in anticipation of revenue at the lowest rate on record. The Second National Bank of Boston was the low bidder at .12% and $3, the lowest previous rate at which the town had borrowed being .14%.

Up to this time, according to Mr. Hardy, the town's credit rating had never quite equalled that of the city of Worcester, but this week Worcester borrowed money at exactly the same rate paid by Arlington.

Perfecting Plans For Boys' Club First Annual Sports Nite

Promoter Paul Bowser has agreed to furnish two wrestling bouts, while there will be five professional boxing bouts. In addition, the several boxing instructors of the Boston park department will put on an exhibition preliminary to four bouts staged by the Boys' Club champions of Charlestown and five by members of the Arlington Boys' Club.

There will also be two battle royals with the contestants blindfolded.

Community Evening Classes Start Jan. 23

Arlington's Community Evening Classes in Adult Education are to be held at the high school every Monday and Thursday evening for six weeks beginning January 23.

These classes are sponsored by the Arlington Woman's Club through the Education Committee, Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, chairman, with the cooperation of other committees, and officers of the executive board.

The courses are available because of the generosity of those who give their time to serve as instructors, or to care for the administrative details, and the cooperation of the School Committee in granting the use of the building.

The registration card, which may be had at a nominal figure, entitles the bearer to attend any or all classes. It may be obtained at the Robbins Library in Arlington Center on Friday and Saturday, January 20, and 21, from 3 to 8 p. m., or at the high school between 7 and

NEW DEAL LICKED AGAIN IN POLICE RELIEF ELECTION

Officer Gerald Duggan Leads Old Guard to Overwhelming Victory.

As a result of the election held Monday, Officer Gerald Duggan was chosen president of the Arlington Police Relief Association. As candidate of the Fusion party he led all the other old guard candidates into overwhelming victory over the New Dealers, who went down to ignominious defeat even after a very active campaign. The New Dealers, who had as their slogan, "Keep the Gold Braid off the Board," are

Commissioner Long Urged Hardy to Run

Like everyone else, Town Treasurer Charles A. Hardy thought that under the contributory retirement system he would be forced to retire from office on July 1 of this year, having passed the age of seventy. But the very day after Selectman George H. Lowe, Jr., had announced his candidacy for the office of town treasurer Mr. Hardy discovered that he was not prohibited from running for re-election as a pensioner.

Because of that ruling and because he feels he is still more than fit to give the town the same grade of service he has rendered the past eighteen years, the incumbent has decided to run again for the office. Here is the letter which did much toward making up his mind:

Dear Mr. Hardy:—
The reason I sent Bulletin No. 13 was to call to attention exactly what you found. As I understand it, it is clear that you can run, and I am deeply sorry that so many have taken the other view and have retired. Age so far as the calendar is concerned should not motivate against the community getting the best of service, and I think the suggestion you make of continuing is by all odds the best.
With every good wish,
Cordially yours,
(Signed) Herbert F. Long,
Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation.

No Capital Outlay For 1939 Taxpayers Resolve.

WHEREAS the following items will each and every one materially increase the charges against the Town of Arlington over which as individual Town Officials or as Citizens thereof we have no control:

I. Arlington's share of the 1938 State Tax deficit must be paid in 1939 amounting to approximately $81,000, less the Highway fund allocation.

II. The Governor predicts a 1939 State Tax in excess of $25,000,000, which will mean an extra $110,000, or more for Arlington to pay above the 1937 high point.

III. Arlington must pay all of the $45,000. in 1939 for local hurricane damage borrowed in 1938.

IV. Continued work on the new Metropolitan Water Reservoir and aqueducts and the extension to the North Metropolitan sewer will unquestionably increase the 1939 Metropolitan Tax.

V. Numerous Legislative Bills have been filed for extensions of the Metropolitan Highways and Parks and for the use of the State Highway Fund money for aid for certain highways and tunnels, any of which if passed will affect Arlington either by an increased Metropolitan Tax or a reduction of Highway funds for allocation, or both.

VI. The Elevated deficit will be greater than the 1937 peak.

VII. The transfer of W. P. A. workers to the "Old Age Assistance" and "Aid for Dependent Children" classifications will increase the needed amount of appropriation by Arlington for both of these.

Therefore be it RESOLVED that the Arlington Taxpayers' Association respectfully urges that rigid economy be practiced by each and every department and official in the town without the impairment of any really essential service;

It is also further RESOLVED that all departments, officials and citizens of the town be urged and requested to refrain from asking for any "Capital Outlay" items; i. e. extensions, improvements, construction; unless such outlay is absolutely essential of itself or is a part of a definite planned work-relief program.

Passed by a unanimous vote of the Directors of the Arlington Taxpayers' Association, Monday, Jan. 9, 1939.

VOTED that copies of this RESOLUTION be sent to all Town Officials and to the Press in order that all may co-operate and assist in keeping a certainly increased 1939 Tax Rate as little increased as possible.

A true copy
G. BERTRAM WASHBURN,
Executive Secretary.

Hill of 15 Oxford street, this town, and Theodore Peirce of Worcester, both of whom were present with their families.

At the meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday, Mr. Peirce was presented with fifty cigars, one for each year of his married life, and a bouquet was given for Mrs. Peirce.

SEVEN CHURCHES ENTER ANNUAL PULPIT SHUFFLE

Seven Arlington churches will join in the annual pulpit exchange on Sunday. No announcement has been made in any of the churches as to the identity of the guest preacher. This annual feature has aroused much interest in recent years and promoted a fine spirit of fellowship.

The churches that will participate are First Baptist, First Methodist-Episcopal, First Universalist, First Parish (Unitarian), Orthodox Congregational, Park Avenue Congregational, and Calvary Methodist-Episcopal.

WELFARE COUNCIL SHOWS DEFICIT OF $600 FOR 1938

"No Cost Accounting on Human Needs," Says the President, Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry. May Change Name Back to Associated Charities.

A $600 deficit for 1938 was disclosed at the Annual Meeting of the Welfare Council Friday, January 6 at Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Delegates from the various churches and member organizations were told that the causes of the deficit were unavoidable.

"Pledges to the Community Chest in many instances were not fulfilled; so we did not have the funds to work with we expected," said Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry, president of the council. "There was, however, no falling off in demands upon the Council's activity," Mrs. Perry continued. "And how is it possible to put a cost accounting on human needs?"

This situation is of course a direct result of the failure of the people of Arlington to meet its Community Chest needs.

DRIVER OF DEATH TRUCK IN ANOTHER CRASH HERE

Michael D. Rosa, Operator of Truck which Killed George P. Wilson Here December 31, Strikes Pole, Same Hour of Morning in Almost Same Spot. Found Guilty of Operating so as to Endanger Only Day Before.

Michael D. Rosa, the same man whose truck killed George P. Wilson two weeks ago, drove his oil truck into one pole on Massachusetts avenue near Bartlett avenue, this morning, and then into another, badly damaging the truck and slightly injuring himself. The same man, the same truck, the same hour of the morning, almost the same spot. Since the street was covered with oil, which poured from the truck, the fire department stood by to prevent fire until the mess was cleaned up.

On December 31 an oil truck operated by Michael D. Rosa of Lexington struck George P. Wilson, well-known Arlington man, as the latter was crossing Massachusetts avenue on his way to work at the Frost & Higgins Company on Mill street. Mr. Wilson was rushed to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance but died there shortly after arrival of a fractured skull.

Following the fatal accident Rosa was arrested and charged with manslaughter and driving so as to endanger. His case came up only yesterday morning, and he was found guilty of the latter charge, fined fifty dollars. The machinery of the registry of motor vehicles had not yet had time to remove his driver's license.

Local Presentation of Opera "Faust" is Creating Interest

The performance of Gounod's magnificent opera "Faust", which is scheduled for January 27 at Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington, sponsored by the Arlington Post American Legion Band, is creating no little interest and anticipation among Arlington opera and music enthusiasts in this vicinity. The artists for the presentation will be furnished by the Federal Music Project with two of its largest units, the State Chorus and the Commonwealth Symphony Orchestra, appearing under the direction of Peter T. Bodge.

Much of the credit for the success of this group belongs to the conductor, Peter T. Bodge. A violinist by vocation, Mr. Bodge has had an extensive and varied background in the music field.

When the Boston Opera Company was formed, Mr. Bodge was one of the first musicians sought out by the management. He remained several seasons with this company and then went on tour with the famous Pavlova Ballet. He was also a member of the Boston Festival when that group was at the pinnacle of its popularity. The Metropolitan in Boston next claimed his services for eleven years as conductor of its great orchestra, a record that has few equals in the music world. In addition to all this, he was associated

Would Have Hooley Seek Re-election

Dear Editor:—
In spite of the fact that the Arlington park department has been voted a bare minimum of appropriation during the past several years, the commissioners, whose chairman is Daniel M. Hooley, have made great advances toward making the town's park properties usable.

One need only look at the Heights Reservoir Beach to realize that a tremendous amount of efficient work has been done there with a minimum of expenditure. The beach with its deep sand and fine bathhouse has been made a joy to children and adults alike. Not only that, but it has been made safe, as last summer's record will witness. For the first time since there has been public bathing in the reservoir, there were no drowning accidents.

plished during the year under her guidance. The good cheer chairman, Mrs. Charles D. Moore, in reporting her many disbursements of jelly, flowers and calendars to those indisposed, gave evidence of the great interest she has shown in her department.

The unique report of Mrs. Alvin A. Woodward, written in rhyme, caused much amusement, and a special vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Woodward for her faithfulness in so conscientiously performing her duties.

The chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Harold B. Wood, most efficiently reviewed the work of the year and made several valuable suggestions for the future. Much credit was given Mrs. William A. Tebeau for her loyalty as chairman of the hand work committee, so much of the considerable amount of sewing having been done by herself.

The comprehensive reports of the group chairmen showed in a high degree their unity and cooperation in the various projects and means of accomplishing the required quota of each. This spirit of helpfulness and cooperation was stressed by the retiring president, Miss Grace Parker in her closing remarks, in which she ably made resume of the past and offered words of encouragement for the future. Speaking briefly in farewell to each member of the past year's board in turn, Miss Parker showed her gift of happily choosing the fitting word for the occasion.

The report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Llewellyn M. Evans was as follows:

President, Mrs. Lester C. Shirley; first vice-president, Mrs. Carroll H. Beers; second vice-president, Mrs. Morton C. Bradley; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter L. McNeill; assistant secretary, Mrs. Frank Carlson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank G. Volpe; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph B. Lancaster; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Elmer E. Barber; auditor, Mrs. Henry C. Guernsey; committee chairman—membership, Mrs. Everett E. Brainard; social, Mrs. Roscoe E. Patten; ways and means, Mrs. William J. Sinclair; good cheer, Mrs. Charles D. Moore; hand work, Mrs. William A. Tebeau and Mrs. George B. Rogers; social service, Mrs. Earl S. Lewis; house, Mrs. Alvin A. Woodward; nominating, Mrs. Harold C. Mann.

The meeting closed with the presentation by the president in behalf of the Bradshaw-Friendly of a necklace of pearls to Mrs. Luxford as an evidence of their sincere appreciation for her long and faithful service, and their great reluctance at her retirement. Miss Grace Parker was also presented by Mrs. Stanley E. Cook with a beautiful vase of spring flowers from her many friends as a warm tribute to her very capable leadership.

The most substantial and appetizing tea which followed was chairmanned by Mrs. Harold C. Mann, assisted by the board. The pourers were Mrs. Laurence L. Barber and Miss Edith Fox.

CAPT. JOHNSON THRILLS WOMAN'S CLUB AUDIENCE

theatres in order that they may be of a type suitable for adolescent and juvenile.

At this meeting the schedule of courses available at the Arlington Community Evening Classes in Adult Education, sponsored by the Woman's Club through the Education Committee, Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, chairman, was announced. These courses, which offer a variety of subjects, will be held at the Arlington High School every Monday and Thursday evening at 7:30, beginning January 23rd, for six weeks.

The speaker of the afternoon was Captain Irving Johnson, who was introduced by Mrs. Fred U. Wyman in her capacity as chairman of the program committee. Captain Johnson's subject was "Around Again in the Yankee" and is the thrilling story of a round-the-world cruise for fun in a 92-ft. schooner. Captain Johnson is a most interesting story-teller and the accompanying colored movies were marvelous. This cruise, which started November 1, 1936, lasted for eighteen months, during which time 35,000 miles were covered. In addition to Captain Johnson, his wife and little son, the "family" consisted of two young women and eleven young men. From Gloucester, the "Yankee" sailed down the Atlantic coast, across the Caribbean Sea and through the Panama Canal out to the Pacific Ocean, down across the Equator and onward touching at the Galapagos Islands, Pitcairn Island of "Bounty" fame, Easter Island and other South Sea Islands, on to Africa and thence across the South Atlantic to South America and back to Gloucester. Entering into the spirit of the cruise, the audience rode the "Yankee" through rough seas, saw the jib blown to ribbons, were becalmed in the doldrums, fished from the rail of the schooner, helped the crew capture 400-lb. turtles, climbed live volcanoes, talked and traded by means of sign language with cannibals and head hunters, penetrated the jungle, viewed some unusual animals at close range, watched the natives dance, and enjoyed glimpses of some of the beautiful tropical flowers.

The several views of the "Yankee" with her towering white sails outlined against the vivid colors of sky, sea or landscape, were truly impressive. It was most interesting to follow the growth of Captain Johnson's baby boy, who was a babe in arms at the beginning of the cruise, but who was able to walk the deck in the roughest weather and climb the ropes as well as any other member before the end of the journey. A cruise around the world in the "Yankee", with Captain Johnson at the helm, was a fascinating and thrilling adventure—even in pictures.

BASKETBALL & HOCKEY TEAMS FACE FORMIDABLE OPPONENTS

A. H. S. Five to Play Melrose and Newton. Puckmen Expect Stiff Checking from Medford at Arena.

The Arlington basketball team faces a very busy week beginning tomorrow (Friday) evening at the local gymnasium. Melrose provides the opposition in a contest that begins at seven-thirty. The Elms provides quite a battle with the Elms Ponders attempting to gain revenge. So far this year the football and hockey representatives from Arlington have emerged victorious from their battles with this great rival. Word comes from Melrose that the hoopmen will make up for these two severe blows, but if they do they will have to be good. The local quintet has completely recovered from last Friday's setback and will put up a stiff battle. A good crowd should turn out for this spectacle.

On Monday afternoon the courtmen journey to Newton to meet the local aggregation. They are supposed to have one of the strongest clubs in the Suburban circuit and will be no pushover for Arlington. We will go farther and say that if the men of Bill Lowder come home with the bacon they will be very lucky as well as skillful.

Almost comes to Arlington for a game Wednesday afternoon. The starting time is 3 o'clock. The lads from across the turnpike are not in the league, so the contest will not be too important. However, the two towns are bitter rivals and a win for either club will be appreciated by the citizens of the victorious community.

The scene of ice battles shifts to the Arena and Medford provides the opposition. The Arlington boys have third ice, so their contest should get under way about three-thirty. So far this year Medford has always put up a good fight. They are a hard-checking club and if they don't win at any rate they should give Charlie Downs' boys a good shaking up. As you know, Arlington is leading the league, but Stoneham is right on their heels. Coach Downs plans on keeping his lineup intact. Johnny Spinner is performing better every week in the local cage and he is about due for his first shutout.

Royals Win

The Arlington Royals defeated the Old Mr. Boston Club, 35-31, last Saturday evening at the high school. The game was a thrilling battle with the lead changing hands several times. No one man was outstanding in the scoring column, with three boys sharing honors tallying seven points. They were Charlie Lowder, Mike Burke of the Royals, and Gordon of Old Mr. Boston.

The Purple Invaders, led by Tommy Cotter, whipped the Lexington Mohawks in a preliminary game, 31-25.

Boys' Club Loses

To Roxbury Five

The Arlington Boys' Club five was easily defeated by the Roxbury Boys' Club quintet Saturday evening at the Roxbury Boys' Club, 52-27. "Mush" Corbett, local star, was out of the lineup and this partly caused the local team's poor showing. John and Fred Curley of Roxbury held scoring honors by chalking up 12 and 11 points respectively.

Ed McEwen led the Arlington sharpshooters with eight points. The winners were by far the better drilled outfit, but we might add that their facilities are much superior to the locals' plant.

A. H. S. Five Takes First League Contest

The Arlington High basketball team won its first league game Tuesday afternoon by defeating Brookline High, 25-18, at the Brookline gymnasium. As the totals show, the game was not a very open affair and the scores were few and far between. The local crew appeared to be bothered by the great number of lines on the floor. The reason for these are that courts run both across and lengthwise in the gym. Arlington could have had a wider victory margin but their aim on foul shots weren't what they should have been. As a matter of fact, Coach Lowder's boys missed at least nine free throws.

Play during the first eight minutes was rather fast but both teams guarded closely. The victors were leading by a 6-3 count after the allotted time had expired. George Mernick with two baskets, and Billy Whitney did the Arlington scoring. There were several personals but neither club used them to great advantage.

The Menotomy Towners widened their lead to five points in the second period. Mernick dropped a foul toss and Ward tallied for Brookline. About midway through the chapter "Twinkle" Glennon dribbled up the floor and set up Whitney beautifully. Tom Cotter swished a long shot from the side of the court but Cohen scored for Brookline. Mernick chalked up another two points and Nixon sank a looper and the first half came to a close. The score, Arlington 13, Brookline 9.

Throughout the third session Brookline forced the game in a futile effort to forge ahead. "Twinkle" Glennon, who had been held scoreless during the opening half, intercepted two enemy passes and swept down to tally on both occasions. This Brookline challenge did not get them anywhere, instead Lowder's lads took advantage of this fierce attack and chalked up four more points on quick breakaways. Cotter and Whitney did the scoring. The boys in Red and Blue managed to pick up four markers during this quarter.

Leading, 21-13, Arlington was inclined to take the defensive during the final stanza. As a matter of fact they failed to drop a two-pointer. However, Whitney and Isner sank foul shots to build up the local count to 25. Nixon and Kaplan dropped long loopers to aid the Brookline cause. The only other score of the final period was Crowley's free toss.

This win put Arlington's representatives in a good frame of mind for next week's busy schedule. It also started them off on the right foot in the Suburban League. Bill Whitney and George Mernick shared scoring honors with seven points apiece.

The Red and Gray seconds were also in the win column, only the battle was much closer. First one club would lead and then the other came back and jumped ahead. After the last whistle the count stood Arlington 21, Brookline 20. Puddy King of the locals was the high scorer with eleven points.

Basketball League

Some very close battles marked the week's progress in the Arlington Basketball League, sponsored by the local Adult Recreation Project.

At the Junior High East, the Panthers, led by Frankie Oliverio, staged a see-saw game with Bill Lyons' All-Stars. The winner was decided in doubt all during the game and it was only a last second basket by Oliverio that finally gave the Panthers the victory. The score was Panthers 29, All-Stars 28.

Another close game at the Junior High East was that between the Boys' Club Junior team and the last moving Mohawks. The boys from the West fought hard but were unable to overcome a four-point lead taken by the Boys' Club in the first half, and went down to defeat by the score of 32 to 28. The playing of "Porky" Burke and Frankie Simonds for the Boys' Club, and Busa and Roper of the Mohawks featured.

At the Junior High West, the Forest A. C., aided by some slick shooting by "Tubby" Laird, pinned a decisive defeat on the Boys' Club Juniors. The score, Forest A. C. 30, Boys' Club Juniors 39.

At the Junior High West also, Forest A. C. scored a ding-dong victory over the stubbornly fighting Purple Invaders quintet. The Invaders showing a marked improvement since their last appearance, were not quite good enough to off-the-sharpshoot of Laird, Kent and Boyd. The Invaders provided a thrill in the fourth period when they crept to within six points of the leaders. However, the Forest A. C. turned on the pressure at this point and finished out in front by the score of 55 to 41.

LOCALS STAY IN LEAGUE LEAD BEATING BELMONT

Hockey Team Scores 5 to 3 Victory over Hard-Fighting Neighbors. Belmont Forces Play All the Way, Disregarding Defense. Malone Scores Twice on Steals.

Coach Charlie Downs' Arlington High six continued to reign supreme in the Greater Boston League by soundly defeating Belmont, 5-3 last Saturday afternoon at the Garden. This win was very important because Stoneham is right on their trail and the least little slip will drop the locals to second place. The boys in Blue and White continued on the victory path by whipping Rindge, 4-1. Arlington might just as well have won by a 5-1 count, but Downs wisely elected to give his third line, second defense, and spare goalie a little experience. It is no reflection on the latter's ability that Jack Harris' lads poked in two goals, but rather it shows the local substitutes' lack of high school competition.

The game was an interesting one to witness with both teams skating well on the fast ice. There were two minor injuries during the sixty minutes with the Belmont team on the receiving end both times. With Dick Henry and Bill Ray each getting a cut on the face. The game was strictly an offensive battle with both teams pressing throughout the contest. Belmont, although completely outscored, managed to keep the disc inside the Arlington blue and would have piled up a good sized lead only Spinner managed to get in front of everything that came his way.

The locals pulled out in front after nine minutes and thirty-four seconds of play in the opening period. Captain "Sly" Lyons picked up the puck at centre ice and skated in on Boundy. The Belmont net-minder made a nice save on the shot but had no chance whatsoever to stop the rebound; Bill lifting the rubber cleanly over him.

There was no more scoring until midway through the middle session. Arlington was employing a five-man attack inside the losers' line. Lindy Blanchard passed to Ed Burns, who batted the puck into the drapes at 11:45. The lads in Red and Blue became enraged at the 2-0 count and pressed Arlington severely during the rest of the session.

The Arlington men took a three-goal lead immediately after the third period face-off. Hickey took the disc and turned it over to Lindy Blanchard. The big defenseman stickkanded almost into the crease and let go an easy shot which just caught the lower left-hand corner.

Belmont made up for this counter in short order. Murphy passed to Henry at 2:10 and the clever cen-

CHelsea HANDS LOWDER'S BOYS FIRST SET-BACK

Red & Gray Out-passed by Rivals and Lose, 38-24.

Last Friday evening at the high school gym the Chelsea Red Devils handed Coach Bill Lowder's charges their first setback of the current campaign, 38-24. The auditorium was packed to capacity for the battle which was pretty much a one-sided affair. The victors were a bit the better drilled quintet and their snappy passes had the locals back on their heels. Arlington had an opportunity to score at least ten more points but the ball just would not seem to go through the hoop. "Twinkle" Glennon, who usually drops three or four long shots, had no luck at sharpshooting and naturally this hurt the local cause.

The first period was completely dominated by Coach Bill Keneally's lads. So closely did the victors guard that Arlington was unable to drop a basket throughout the allotted eight minutes. Ralph Thomas opened the scoring for the evening by sinking two foul shots. This was the only time the lads in Red and Gray were on top. Al Azzoni, the outstanding man on the floor, soon knotted up the count and then the devils started to go to town. Glowacki, Azzoni, and Mornick tallied in about two minutes. Arlington could not score again until the very end of the stanza, when Thomas dropped another pair of foul throws. The standing at the end of this section was Chelsea 11, Arlington 4.

The locals made a much better showing in the second period and at one time they were only three points in the rear. After Lawless had swished a free toss, Mernick dropped in two of them. Glennon looped a two-pointer and Isner sank a foul. The Arlington rosters began to see some hope, but Azzoni's basket widened the margin to five points. This concluded the scoring for the half, with Chelsea out in front, 14-9. Lowder's boys might easily have been ahead but shots by Thomas, Glennon and Cotter just weren't labeled.

Chelsea second team emerged victorious. The final count of this game was 34 to 22. The Arlington boys really put up a much better game than the totals would indicate, the visitors chalking up ten points in the final two minutes. The winners were paled by a five-foot tall forward who led his club in scoring with eight points.

After a good rest the visitors took the floor with renewed energy. Glowacki, Butt, Azzoni and Lawless had lopped baskets before the local contingent could add to their total. After about two minutes Arlington received a break when Mr. Azzoni was banished from the floor for committing four personal fouls. Undoubtedly his loss kept the count down because he had an eagle eye if we ever saw one. Thomas, Mernick and Cotter did the local scoring during this quarter. A serious blow was dealt to the winners when Charlie Mornick received a fractured thumb in a collision with Russ Isner. He will be lost for the rest of the season.

As the above would indicate, Keneally's basketweavers had an edge during this session, but the locals had a little better teamwork and the play was the fastest of the evening.

During the final minutes, both coaches substituted freely. Lawless took Azzoni's place as the ill man and ran up eleven points during the last half. Midway through the chapter the locals' scoring hopes received a severe jolt when Glennon was tossed out of the fray for telling the referee, Artie Gore, where to head in. Billy Whitney added four points to the Arlington total by sinking two long throws with seconds left to play. Eddie Hughes also came through with a nice angle shot from the sideline.

This loss took a lot of wind out of the Arlington sails but it was not a league game and so it will not hurt their record very much. Lawless led the scoring with twelve points. Azzoni came next in line with nine. Ralph Thomas helped the local cause by tallying six points. Mernick, Glennon and Bill Whitney had four apiece.

We were very much disappointed with the outcome of the battle. It is our feeling that whenever the Arlington lads realize that it is Chelsea they are up against, they do not play their best brand of ball. We hope that the defeat will not take away the spirit which they showed in the first three games.

The Chelsea second team emerged victorious. The final count of this game was 34 to 22. The Arlington boys really put up a much better game than the totals would indicate, the visitors chalking up ten points in the final two minutes. The winners were paled by a five-foot tall forward who led his club in scoring with eight points.

UNIQUE OPPORTUNITIES

We can with a certain amount of justice grumble about this and that, but Arlington is, by and large, a fairly progressive town, after all. Of course, that remark opens up a tremendous number of avenues of thought, but at the moment we mean to mention only one. And that is adult education.

One has only to listen to some of the quizz radio programs to discover just how ignorant we adults really are, but in Arlington two agencies, at the very least, are doing their best to fill the obvious need. The Arlington school department conducts a series of vital lectures on current events by a real authority on national and international affairs, J. Anton deHaas, while the Arlington Woman's Club offers even more diversified interests.

Beginning on January 23 the education committee of the Woman's Club will conduct community evening classes every Monday and Thursday evening at the high school for the next six weeks. The courses to be studied include such diversified subjects as stenography, physical education, accounting, English, legislation and international relations, dressmaking, art, photography, contract bridge, Italian cut-work, law, vocational information for parents, knitting, metal craft, and the reviews of scores of important books.

The remarkable thing about Arlington's community evening classes is neither the fine subject matter nor the hundreds of people who will seize upon the opportunity to attend, but rather the quality of the instructors. The long list of Arlingtonians who will teach the above subjects and give the lectures have volunteered their time and, of course, expect no compensation other than the deep satisfaction of doing a bit to make life just a little more enjoyable for someone else.

The Woman's Club and its education committee chairman, Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton and her helpers, are to be greatly commended for this annual work. And the public is to be congratulated on the unique opportunities offered in this town.

As for quality of the instruction, nothing could surpass the school department's public forums, arranged by Miss Martha Schaedel. The lecturer, J. Anton deHaas, who next appears in Arlington this Sunday afternoon, holds degrees from Stanford and from Harvard University. He has taught international relations in universities from California to Holland and now holds the chair of international relations in the graduate school of business administration at Harvard. In addition to his college training, he has served as special agent in Europe for the California immigration commission, was examiner of the Federal Trade commission, and was a captain in the United States Army during the war.

If that is not enough to recommend the speaker as an authority, it might be mentioned that during his world tour just ended, Professor deHaas spent one month in Japan, where he went as chairman of the official United States delegation to the world conference of the World Federation of Education Associations. From there he went to Hong Kong, the Philippines, Dutch East Indies and English India. He spent last summer in Europe.

Again we offer congratulations to the people of Arlington for their unique opportunities. Watch for the dates of the deHaas lectures in this town, and by all means hear them!

WHY NOT FACE THE FACTS?

Public spending has reached a point where no man, in spite of his best efforts and intentions, can call a halt. A halt can only be called, if at all, when the public wills it. And unless the public wills it, the country faces national bankruptcy. That is the plain unvarnished truth!

Demands That Dallin's Statue Be Protected

To the Editor of the Arlington Advocate:

The letters written concerning the final care of the creation of Cyrus Dallin in our town, "The Hunter," echo a desire to see prompt justice done to it and also the surrounding grounds in front and back of the Indian.

A few years ago, there was a pretty winding path and green grass as a background. Now the grass is gone and nothing but cross-paths where mostly boys and girls of ten to sixteen years of age have trampled. In walking through the grounds I noticed a large pan in the water in front of our Indian, also sticks, remains of fruit, paper and cigarette refuse thrown into the part where the water is standing.

On account of this disorder, it would not be feasible for the town to open the Maple street entrance. It is not too much effort to walk from Maple street to Junior High or to Pleasant street and right of way back of First Parish Church.

Not long ago writing was removed from the back of our beautiful Memorial Town Hall.

Nearly every time crossing the grounds, are seen boys and girls of all ages, sliding down the back of the Indian, pulling at the bow (which became broken) and the feathers, spattering water over it, and wading in the water in front in warm weather.

Every teacher in every school room should instruct the pupils on the proper care and reverence for the beauty and power of this work of art.

That Arlington is indeed honored in having such wonderful citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Dallin, also that Arlington is the home of a world famous sculptor.

If damage continues to be done to this art work, I would suggest that it have a covering of some kind under lock and key and have the work on view at certain times of the year, or a strong wire fence placed around it, or a fence directly back, allowing grass once more to grow. At least, a sign might be placed, forbidding entrance.

It may be necessary to move the Hunter nearer the avenue, but the beauty would be somewhat destroyed.

It is to be hoped that something may be done in the near future to insure the long preservation of such a work, that young and old may see it and discover the message that the sculptor saw when he created "The Hunter."

Sincerely,
MRS. EDWIN L. ALLEN

WOODCUTS

"Political reformers who have never managed a business usually take it for granted that existing firms and employers are there to stay," observes the New York Times. To the group of reformers the Times might have added strikers. The drivers for the Service Bus Lines which served this town until last week struck three times within a year—twice for higher pay and the last time because the proprietor tried to make both ends meet by doing some of the garage work himself, instead of employing another union man.

That last one broke the camel's back. The proprietor threw up the sponge and bowed out of business, leaving to the drivers the discovery that they had struck themselves out of jobs.

And now the big truck drivers' get nearly a dollar an hour for a 48-hour week, with extra pay for the inevitable overtime! How does one get to be a truck driver, anyway? Driving a truck might be a welcome change from pushing a pen.

All this newspaper discussion about protecting the Dallin statue, "The Hunter," has brought about the desired result. People are talking about it and are even taking the trouble to write. We publish another very good letter on the subject this week. Mrs. Allen can forget her fears, however. It will not be necessary to move the statue. The selectmen have very adequate and artistically attractive plans for protecting the Indian and now merely await the necessary funds.

The Arlington Taxpayers' Association has a very important resolution on the front page of this issue with whose principles we are in hearty accord. But where in blazes is the town going to burn its rubbish next year? The department has been stopped in Lexington and people near other local dumping places are yelling their heads off, not that anyone can hate them for that. So how are we going to get along without building an incinerator? Maybe his Satanic majesty could use some inflammables.

We have the greatest respect for Gladys Black Wilcox as a playwright. We'd better have, since her play, "My Beloved Husband," seems destined to splash into big time. We did not like it, though, when she made a liar out of the Advocate last week. On the other hand, we have every assurance she will not do it again because everyone she met pestered her to death by asking her why she was not in New York after the Advocate said she was. Her conscience bothered her so much that she finally had to make good by going to the big city this week.

Once in a blue moon someone we know actually gets onto the stage in New York. Marie Timmons is the fortunate girl this time. Miss Timmons has been a member of the Arlington Friends of the Drama and appeared in the leading soprano role of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Princess Ida" three years ago. Later she has been singing in the Hofbrau on Tremont street in Boston.

One night the famous producer, George Abbott, happened to be in the Hofbrau and heard Marie sing. Of course Marie was very much excited when the impresario asked for her name and address, but in sober thought the next day, the next week and the next month she realized that nothing would ever come of it. But wonder of wonders, something did. Marie got a wire last week directing her to report to Mr. Abbott's office in New York. Now she is singing a small role in the smash hit musical show, "The Boys from Syracuse," and is understudying one of the bigger parts.

Sounds like a movie magazine story, doesn't it?

HAVE FAITH

By EDITH WYMAN

Believe that you were meant to have
A noble destiny and high;
Believe that life holds something big,
And let your spirit never die.

Then trust another person quite
Completely, for there must be one
In all the world who never fails,
So trust him 'till the day is done.

Have faith, first in yourself, then in
Another, and a Power above,
And your reward will be new strength;
A character confirmed in love.

IN 1874 Sixty-Five Years Ago This Week

Our town clerk furnishes the following comparative figures:

	1872	1873
Births . . . . .	102	118
Marriages . . . . .	45	49
Deaths . . . . .	66	70

It certainly cannot be laid to Geo. Washington as having been the one who tested his little hatchet on the posts near the cemetery.

The residents on the left side of Jason street made good the absence of a concrete walk by laying a board walk during the winter the entire length of the street.

President A. H. Richardson and the other officers of the Cotting High School Alumni Association are energetically preparing for the fifteenth annual reunion of this association, at which there will be an address by Hon. J. Q. A. Brackett, Judge Parmenter and others. Remit your assessments to Wm. B. Wood, secretary.

The residence of Theodore Schwamb, Esq., was the scene of a brilliant gathering January 10, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter, Clara, to Walter H. Peirce, son of B. Horace Peirce, prominent Boston merchant. The groom was attended by Prof. Peter Schwamb, brother of the bride, while Miss Alice Peirce, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Rev. C. H. Watson performed the ceremony in his usual pleasant manner.

Deacon Henry Mott, one of Arlington's best known citizens, gently breathed his last on Monday afternoon. Inasmuch as he had expressed great disappointment that he had not joined his wife on Christmas Day, the anniversary of her death ten years ago, no one has since even hoped for his recovery. He simply awaited the summons of the final messenger, though disappointed at the delay . . . He served the town in 1873 and again in 1878-84 as selectman. Prior to this and afterwards, he served on the board of assessors, on the water board, and he helped lay out Mt. Pleasant cemetery, in which he was buried. He was one of the prime movers in the formation of the Orthodox Congregational church 45 years ago, and it was there that the funeral services were held. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Hall, Messrs. Myron Taylor and Geo. G. Allen.

IN 1914 Twenty-Five Years Ago This Week

One of the most valued and practical gifts to the editor's family on Christmas was an Edison Electric toaster. It works, and works like a charm.

The Arlington District Nurses made 371 visits during 1913 and called on a total of 42 patients, only one of which died.

During the Christmas holidays the engagement was announced of Mr. Roger W. Homer, Arlington, to Miss Jane Barker, superintendent of nurses at the New England Hospital for Women and Children. Miss Barker's home is in New York.

Postal Clerk Daniel W. Healey sustained a painful fracture of the nose while trying to be a good Samaritan by stopping a runaway horse on Wednesday.

Arlington High School hockey team showed a decided advancement in play Tuesday afternoon, when it defeated the strong alumni team 1 to 0. The one goal was scored by Peabody. #### IN 1929 Ten Years Ago This Week

Police annual report shows eight people killed by automobiles in Arlington in 1928. Worst year on record.

W. I. Marsters, chairman of Arlington's Republican Town Committee, presented with watch at Boston dinner for representing town with greatest increase in party registration.

Robert Mills, 11, drowns in Alewife Brook. No witness to tragedy.

A. H. S. basketball team beats Framingham and Malden, Bill Lower high scorer. Hockey team loses three in a row, all by 2 to 0 scores. Harvard freshmen, Newton High and Melrose are the victors. Harvard goals made by Barry Wood.

Building Inspector Gratto's report shows 808 permits issued during 1928 to a total value of $3,504,245, a reduction of $309,000 from 1927. Clerk Paul Mossman says reduction in value due to large number of small 1-family houses as against the previous vogue of 2-family dwellings.

Symmes Hospital Faculty Entertains Alumnae

The faculty of the Symmes Arlington Hospital entertained the alumnae on Monday, January 9. There were 50 present with Dr. and Mrs. George Towle and Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Jones as guests of honor.

Dr. Guy S. Sweeney of Medford entertained with monologues and readings. An inspection of the new wing to the Nurses' home was made. The group was especially interested and enthused over the new teaching unit. Refreshments were served.

DO YOU KNOW MASSACHUSETTS?

(Compiled by the Massachusetts State Planning Board, 24 State House, Boston, Mass.)

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . The first appendectomy was performed in 1886 by Alfred Worcester, in Waltham . . . Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley is said to have been the first women's college in America . . . The well-known frigate "Constitution," finished in 1797, was a home-made Boston vessel. Paul Revere furnished the copper, bolts and spikes, drawn from malleable copper by a process then new; and Ephraim Thayer, who had a shop at the South End, made the gun carriages for the frigate. Her sails were made in the Granary Building at the corner of Park and Tremont Streets—no other building in Boston was large enough. The anchors came from Hanover in Plymouth County, and a portion of the timber used was taken from the woods of Allentown on the borders of the Merrimack.

The first complete fly shuttle loom for weaving wire cloth for fly screens was devised in Clinton by George Wright of Westford (about 1872) . . . The designing and construction of six steel mills for the Ford Motor Company were executed by a Worcester organization . . . Baldwin chain drives made in Worcester were important units of the Packard, Olds, Stanley Steamer and International Harvester Company tractor . . . A map and detailed information regarding ski trails and slides in Massachusetts has been compiled by the State Planning Board and is now being distributed by the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission.

munity Chest quota. The Welfare Council had a definite duty to perform as the private family agency of the town and when people were cold and hungry through no fault of their own, there was no denying aid although our books were not going to balance on December 31st. Perhaps we can absorb this deficit incurred in November and December during the summer months," Mrs. Perry further reported.

The need for a council of the social agencies in Arlington was brought out and it was voted that a meeting calling together agents of these organizations be held in the near future.

Serious thought was given to the changing of the name "Welfare Council" because of the great amount of confusion concerning Public Welfare and Welfare Council. It was suggested a return to the old name, Associated Charities.

Baptist Men's Class Blues Beat Reds in Attendance Contest

The ten-week interclass contest of the First Baptist Men's Class was brought to a close yesterday with a fine total attendance of 173. The Blue team was again the victor, 91 to 82, giving them the lead in nine out of the ten Sundays and a total attendance of 824, against 695 for the Red division.

General Karl Place and his 22 Blue team captains worked hard and deserved to win, but not quite such a large margin was looked for over such a capable leader as Carl Everberg.

Of particular interest to both general and class officers as a whole was the splendid result to the class which to date has shown a considerable increase over last year's attendance figures.

Among the captains, whose job it was to keep in constant contact with each of his men, individual honors go to Charlie Hayden (Reds) and Neil Strong (Blues). Both men had a fine average turnout.

As agreed, it is now up to the members of the Red team, as losers, to take entire charge of the arrangements for the March supper and furnish suitable entertainment as well.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 15.

The Golden Text is: "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Proverbs 12:28).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. . . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night" (Psalms 90: 1, 2, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite" (p. 468).

banquet for the benefit of all major team squads of the high school.

The chairman of the committee, George A. Harris, expressed the views of the committee to the Advocate as follows:

"First, it being understood by the committee that the Athletic Council, in good faith, is considering the advisability of a suitable testimonial dinner to all major squads of the high school, late this spring, and

Secondly, rather than cause any undesirable friction between the committee and the council, due to the fine and wise decision of the council in regard to the awarding of sweaters, and

Furthermore, the spontaneous support offered the original committee by practically all the civic and fraternal organizations of Arlington, to back the proposition of sweaters and a banquet for the boys, leads the enlarged committee to believe the council will adequately make plans for the entire school major team squads, and

Therefore, the committee voted unanimously to leave the matter in the hands of the council and, if the council so desires, to support and assist them in carrying out their plans in the late spring.

"To those who have assisted this committee by their very fine moral support, to the merchants of Arlington for their offers of aid and to the individual citizens who have contacted the committee offering their help, we are most grateful. It is indeed a grand town when all parties show such an interest in getting together to promote a civic project such as this."

Refreshments will be served by the social committee, Mrs. Harold E. Wilson, chairman. The Prudential Committee, Mrs. George W. Bowby, chairman, will usher. George Percy's orchestra will play for the dancing.

angling for the services of Jim Farley to manage their next campaign.

All the officers elected are commoners, the only peer on the board being Sergeant Frank Meagher. But three gold braiders were elected auditors. They were Chief Archie F. Bullock, Sergeant Edwin C. Jacobs and Lieutenant Thomas F. Sullivan. The latter pair ran neck and neck with thirty votes apiece, while Chief Bullock received thirty-nine votes.

Out of a total of forty-nine votes cast, 48 were marked for Officer Duggan as president, making the widest margin of victory in recent years.

The other officers elected were Thomas Curran, vice-president; James Flynn, secretary, and Edward Sullivan, treasurer. The five successful candidates for the executive board were Thomas J. Keefe, James Burns, Thomas White, William German and Sergt. Meagher.

The election tellers were Lieutenant Sullivan, Sergeant Jacobs and Officer John J. Hourihan, which probably accounts for the fact that Sullivan and Jacobs received the same number of votes each.

Obituaries

MRS. CATHERINE A. DAHILL

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine A. Dahill, widow of Jeremiah J. Dahill, were held Monday morning from her late residence, 273 Broadway, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes' church by the pastor, Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty. Interment was in St. Paul's cemetery, the pallbearers being Gerald Callahan, Paul Campbell, Robert Welch, Joseph Dacey, John Dacey and Robert O'Neill.

Mrs. Dahill was a life-long resident of Arlington, having been born in this town sixty-seven years ago, daughter of Patrick O'Neill and Catherine Fogarty. She leaves five sons and four daughters.

EDWARD C. SHIRLEY

After having apparently recovered from a previous illness which necessitated his retirement two years ago, Edward C. Shirley died suddenly in a heart attack at his home, 16 Walnut street, after having just returned from a walk down town. A native of Arlington and a well-known builder, Mr. Shirley had lived in this town all his life. He passed away last Friday.

The Saville & Kimball chapel at 418 Massachusetts avenue was completely filled with friends and relatives when funeral services were held there Monday afternoon. Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish (Unitarian) church conducted the services and spoke in highest terms of the deceased. He said that Mr. Shirley's skill, creative ability and the excellence of his work would be his lasting memorial. Emery West of this town sang two tenor solos, "Abide With Me" and the "Old Rugged Cross." Interment was in the family lot in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Shirley was born in Arlington April 22, 1874, son of John E. Shirley and Helen M. Hill. He was educated in the Arlington schools and went into business in this town. He was not a joiner but devoted all his spare time to his home and family and to his flower garden. Besides his wife, Mrs. Inez (Crandall) Shirley, he leaves two sisters, who lived with him, Miss Marion Shirley and Mrs. Mina Wilbur; a son, Lester C. Shirley; and two grandchildren, John B. Shirley and Jean Shirley.

THE VALUE OF COLOR IN PRINTING

WHY DOES COLOR SELL?
By Roderick Wogan
A. H. S. '39

There is only one reason why color "sells". That reason is its psychological effect on the buyer. The attitude of a buyer is that he wants something and he isn't sure of what that something is. It is, therefore, up to the salesperson to see that the buyer gets what he wants or something very nearly like it. This is where color starts to play its part.

It is a known fact that color has an effect on people. If dolorous music is played the listener becomes quiet, meditative and a bit sad. If the room is illumined by purple or pale blue lights, the feeling of sadness is augmented to almost moroseness. On the other hand, if catchy, or "hot", music is played and orange, red, pink, or yellow lights are used, the spirits of the listeners go soaring gaily upwards. But it is not coloring in lighting we mean to discuss.

The above digression on lighting was only to illustrate how color brings a response in the human being. If lights can do it, why can't printed colors achieve the same goal? They can. You yourself know that if you buy a white ticket with simple black printing on it you feel a bit downcast, almost abashed. It's only human nature to feel so. Now if you were given a nice bright yellow ticket with green lettering, or a red ticket with simple black, you know you'd feel a bit, nay, a whole lot better about your purchase. Red is a happy color; it has life, vitality; it gives you a jolt in your normal, prosaic life.

It is upon this normal reaction that business bases its subtle attack on the buyer. So vital does business make this new selling scheme that people are put to work discovering color combinations which will make John Doe sit up and take notice. Color combinations are of the utmost importance because colors which clash elicit only exclamations of disgust or horror from the observer. On the other hand, skillful blending of colors tends to heighten the buyer's respect for the product. A well-known fruit-juice company puts its product on the market in cans with blue paper wrappers on which an orange and yellow sunburst effect is printed. You instinctively like the product, whether or not you've ever tried it. One coffee concern uses the patriotic red, white and blue color scheme to put its product across. A certain canned corn sells well because of a label showing a nice ear of Golden Bantam corn framed by soft yellow strands of corn silk and a tempting green husk. Today companies vie with one another to see who can project the most tempting color combinations into the view of the consumer.

Color is not only used on the boxes and cans but also in the advertisements in the magazines and periodicals. A nice, thick, juicy steak flanked by big green peas, fluffy white mashed potatoes, rich orange-colored carrots, diced or sliced, and luscious golden-yellow squash makes one come back again and again to the ad, read it over, and cast a well-trained eye over the tempting viands portrayed. Your mouth begins to water. You can feel your teeth sink into a nice tender piece of steak; can taste the sweetness of the peas and carrots and squash; you can feel how silky and soft the mashed potatoes are sliding down your throat. You day-dream; by golly, you're going right out now and buy the ingredients for just such a meal. Color advertising has again sold products.

Color sells not only food but also vacation and sight-seeing trips. A friend can go into ecstasies over a certain place, say Hawaii. He can paint a verbal picture of its joys and scenic spots. You're only slightly interested, and somewhat skeptical as to the veracity of your friend. But let you see a printed picture, in color, of dusky maids with roses in their hair, coal black hair, and gleaming white teeth, sitting on a dark brown outrigger canoe, and in the background a stretch of nice sandy beach bordered on one side by a cool, inviting, blue-green sea and on the other by shady coconut-palm groves, and you'd be all attention. You can feel the lazy contentment and rest fairly emanating from the picture and you have a desire to get your share of it. For cooler climates Switzerland offers peaceful, snow-filled valleys into which the setting sun is casting royal purple shadows and pink and bluish and lavender highlights. The group of dark green snow-laden firs in the foreground half shield a quaint chalet, in whose windows candles gleam in a warm and friendly manner. Now if these travel posters had been printed in plain black and white there would be little or no appeal in them. But they weren't and consequently you travel to see these wonders and are satisfied.

It is my contention, therefore, that it is the psychological reaction to color, on the part of the buyer, which sells products. The quality of a product may tempt a buyer to keep on using it but it is the effective color used in advertising which leads one to explore new fields of pleasure. Consequently, gentlemen, effective color sells.

"HOLLYWOOD under OBSERVATION"

By Joseph Hoar

"THE UNIVERSITY MOVIE SPOTLIGHT"

"The Young in Heart"
Begins Today

Each time David O. Selznick makes an exceptionally good picture like "The Prisoner of Zenda," he follows it through with a better one. "The Young in Heart," seen through Saturday at the University Theatre, is the most recent "Better One."

Janet Gaynor, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Roland Young and Billie Burke, four of the sleekest super-sophisticated scoundrels ever, persuade an old woman of wealth to bequeath her many millions to them.

Adapted from the novel, "The Gay Banditti," "The Young in Heart" has been given the usual astute Selznick attention. Paulette Goddard, about whom so much has been heard, makes her talking picture debut in this delightful comedy. Henry Stephenson, Irving S. Cobb, Minnie Dupree and Richard Carlson complete the excellent cast.

"Five of a Kind"

In his third-camera story of those five wonders of the Twentieth century (Fox) world, the Dionne Quintuplets, Darryl Zanuck has provided the fast-growing girls with a talented group of players made up of Slim Summerville, the Joan Davis, lovely Claire Trevor, virile Henry Wilcoxon and, of course, Jean Hersholt as the famous Dr. Dafoe. Zanuck, the Barnum of films, has a sensation in these "Five of a Kind" ladies. Both films end Saturday.

"Listen, Darling"

Opens Sunday

Two of the most illuminative members of the juvenile set of Hollywood, Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland, are co-starred in "Listen, Darling," (Mighty) (G)ood (M)ovie, commencing Sunday at the University for three days. The whole affair is about two 1939 kids on the search for a husband for mother. Walter Pidgeon, more popular than ever since "Too Hot to Handle," is the prospective "Dad" while Alan Hale and Mary Astor lend assistance in lesser roles. This is real entertainment.

"Heart of the North"

The Canadian Northwest in all its greatness and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in all its glory, are the splendid subjects for the Warner Brothers technicolor cameras in "Heart of the North," co-feature of "Listen, Darling." The great outdoors is the stage for this sumptuously photographed production, starting the sweethearts of "Four Daughters," Dick Foran and Gale Page, Allen Jenkins astounds in his first straight dramatic role and cute little Janet Chapman as well as versatile Gloria Dickson help out. The brilliant scarlet uniforms of the big mounties are photographic highspots. The plot is laid around the robbery of a riverboat and the killing of a policeman. Mr. Foran is at his best as Sergeant Baker.

"Dodsworth"

For Review Day

Following the successful revival of "Top Hat" and "Winterest" is "Dodsworth," starring Walter Houston and featuring Ruth Chatterton with David Niven. This Sinclair Lewis novel spotlighting the problems of a retired business man and his anti-age wife was one of the ten best pictures of 1936. It will be seen one day only, Wednesday, January 18.

"Just Around the Corner"

Thursday to Saturday

Occupying the top spot on the screen, fare beginning next Thursday is the newest Shirley Temple opus, "Just Around the Corner." Miss Temple, chosen box office star number one for the fourth consecutive year, has a grand opportunity to dance, sing and act in this shining photoplay boasting of further talent in the persons of Joan Davis, Bill Robinson, Bert Lahr and Charles Farrell.

"Arrest Bulldog Drummond"

He's Back! Captain Hugh C. "Bulldog" Drummond of Scotland Yard with all his companions, with the exception of a new villain for each new film, remaining the same. "Arrest Bulldog Drummond" has international agents as its subject and John Howard stars in this fifth delineation of the famous sleuth. Heather Angel, H. B. Warner, Reginald Denny, E. E. Clive and George Zucco are present, also. "The Declaration of Independence," starring John Litel, is another one of those popular historical short subjects in technicolor. It will be seen with the above bill.

"M. G. M. made it. Everyone praises it. 'The Citadel.'"

Looming high in the University coming motion picture attraction horizon is Fredric March in "There Goes My Heart," George Bancroft in "Submarine Patrol," with Nancy Kelly and Richard Greene. "The Great Waltz," starring Luise Rainer and Mickey "Andy Hardy" Rooney in "Out West with the Hardys."

LOCALLY

Triple Feature Shown At Junior High East—

"If I Had a Million"

Last Friday evening at the Junior High School East, Paul Dwinell presented a celluloid show unequalled for uniqueness, a triple feature screen bill. The first, Paramount's "If I Had a Million," with Charles Laughton, Gary Cooper and practically every big star but March, Garbo and Gable, was an enjoyable account of a millionaire giving a million dollars to telephone book names chosen at random.

"The Great Train Robbery"

Exhibited in honor of the motion picture golden jubilee was "The Great Train Robbery," the first story-telling motion picture ever filmed, made by Thomas A. Edison in 1903. A reproduction of the original print, its stark drama was sheer comedy all the way through—a relic to behold. It's amazing to consider "The Great Train Robbery" was actually the thirty-six-year-old forefather of such undertakings as "Angels with Dirty Faces," "Drums," "Grand Illusion" and "Suez."

"The Ski Chase"

Thrilling, exhilarating action was artistically captured by the camera containing film for release in "The Ski Chase," a foreign picture. The fox hunt on skis was terrific.

Was the remark of an unbiased patron: "I certainly got my money's worth!"
